Cohort Programs

The GROWW (Guiding Interdisciplinary Research on Women's and girls' health and Wellbeing) program invites people with a shared interest in women's health to collaborate. Cohort program members will have the opportunity to be involved in workshops and retreats, a mentorship program, experiential learning, and the potential for funding opportunities. Applicants should be enrolled in the MSc or PhD program, or be a postdoctoral fellow.

For more information, see: <https://www.growwprogram.com/program>

Applications are due: April 15, 2024

The Canadian Mother-Child Collaborative Training Platform (CAMCCO-L) has sent a call for applications for the 2024-2025 curriculum cohort, and summer school.

CAMCCO-L is a unique Canadian transdisciplinary virtual training platform in perinatal research on medications. Online courses run from October 2024 to May 2025. Applicants should be enrolled in the MSc or PhD program, be a postdoctoral fellow, or an early career researcher.

For more information, see: <https://www.camccol.ca/en/appel-a-candidatures>

Applications are due: April 30, 2024 at 1:00pm PST
